

No matter how large or small your network is, security should be one of your top priorities. Without proper protection and security setup, your networks are vulnerable to hackers, blended attacks, and malicious programs not to mention complete failure. You need to have solid protection and avoid all computer attacks. HV Tech can determine which products work with your network and computer processes. HV Tech's network security experts can review your network and set up multiple levels of security. Our certified technicians are well versed in security issues and solutions. They will insure that your software is fully updated with the latest security patches, they will install your firewall and setup anti-virus software.

We recently Installed a watchguard Edge Firebox X20E at a client in Ardsley, NY. With this firewall we can block out incoming viruses attached to the users emails, restrict malicious programs from loading on any computers behind the firewall and block websites that have questionable content. We are also able to limit the websites viewed by employees to get a handle on daytime non work related browsing.
